argument of course i on the motions for arrest of judgment and a new trial in the case of Jeff. Pathips, convicted of the morder of G.o. S. Smi h, was larger than yesterday. The convicted man's mother and sister optimized seats to the left of the prisoner's dock. The atmosphere of the room was chilly and nearly all present kept on their overcoa ser other outward wraps.

The cost, however, was not brought to a concincion for it may be several days yet before a decision is rendered.

concinion for it may be several days yet before a decision is rendered.

As hed been previously known, the object of the defense this morning was to impeach certain jurymen who, it is alleged, expressed themselves as inimical to Phillips before his trial. Considerable time was spent in waiting for witnesses and at about half-past feu ofclock.

Lonis M. Adams was placed on the steep.

Lonis M. Adams was placed on the stand: ha testified that he know E. H. Bell, one of the jury; taked to him after he was summanded to the October term. Bell said he belleved Phillips should be hong; he would be hong; he would be hong; he would be the others were discharged. hang him; would tell the judge so; B. B. The witness then underwent a critical cross-examinet on from Mr.

M Johnson, for the prosecution. B B. Martin was next called. He had risided in the city for about three month; was in Mr Adama's store on the day stated by the previous witnes; he corroborated Adams's statement in regard to what Bell had said, and had remarked at the time that he wouldn't like to have that man sit on his case, as he regarded him as an incom-pet at jarymas. Mrs. George Steams followed this witness. She testified that Wm. H. Davis, one of the jarymen, had told her in a short converest on before the trial that he thought Philips cught to hang; it was a co d blooded murder. In the cross examination she was upsteirs cleaning up; you know how we man are; they a e sure to put their heads out of the windows (great laughter); I saw Mr. Davis passing and began the concarse.

Carrene yill. was asked where the talk tock place. "I Mr. Davis passing and began the conceres-tion." The witness's deposition at times elicited much merriment, her reparted being sharp and humorous, and the Judge was finally compelled to thresten to clear the rooms of speciators if the laughter was

Mr. Brest at this jaucture sross and said the defence was prepared to prove that Mr. John Fitzierald, another of the jary, is not a resident of the city, and piaced W. P. Crupper on the stand, who averred that Fitzierald was a resident of Alexandria count.

Frank Adams subsequently took the stand. Knew E. H. Bell; saw him the next morning after the witness and he brd been summoned on the jury; didn't hear Bell say soything to his brother Louis cr Martin, who were in the store at the time: had heard Louis Adams, his brother, however, say Bell should not sit on the jury after expressing his optoion so freely against

B B. Martin was recalled, but his testi-mony only went to show the exact date of his rem val to this city.

Wm. H Davis, the impeached juryman, was next called; had beard Mrs. Stearns' statement : the talk had occurred the second day siter the shooting; didn't recollect everything that had been said on the occaston; some paris of her statement were corner the former should be hanged; thought | Provisions steady. her evidence had been given because he was not on good terms with Mrs. Stearns' hus-

E. H. Bell, another ja yman whose qualifinations had been questioned, could not be dull and easy. Pork quiet and steady produced, he being sick in bed, and it was determined that if he could not appear his deposition would be taken at his home.

An intermission of nearly ball an bour then occurred in the proceedings, at the end of which Mr. Bell entered the room and was placed on the stand. He diln't remember having expressed any opinion of the shooting and said positively he did not say Phil-lips should be hung, nor did he say he cou d not serve on the jury; he had expressed LO opinion of the case and had been very par-ticular as to what he said regarding tie cicular as to what he said regarding to osse; had seen Martin, one of the witnesses, in the store and semething had been said; didn't remember what. Adams' store; didn't remember who accom panied nim to court on the morning he was summoned as a juryman; he may have met Martin in the store; had no recollection of expressing any opinion in the store; he had been very cautious in his words regarding the Paillips case; had he made the assertions attributed to him he would likely have remembered making them; wouldn't swear positively he didn't enter into a conversation in the store, but was emphatic in his denial of having expressed any opinion.

Another intermission followed while R. & D. walting for the appearance of John Firz-irstant, gerad, and it appearing that much fu ther jan26 time would elapse before he could be produced, it was stated to the court that both the prosecution and the defense were ready to proceed with a guments in regard to the motions for setting seids the verdict and a new trial, and Mr. Burke addressed the court on behalf of the defense, in which he challenged the jurymen who had bren charged with having previously expressed epinions in regard to the case and read re ports of the proceedings of the Court of Appeals, which tribunal, he asserted, had sustained exceptions which had been taken to other jurors who had similarly expressed themselves. He then excertated Mesera. Bell and Davis, and, after reviewing the evidence which had been given against them, asserted that they had proven themselves incompetent jury men.

John F tzgerald, at the conclusion of Mr. Burke's remarks, appeared and averred that he was a resident of the city.

Mr. J. M. Johnson then addressed the court on behalf of the prosecution, and spike in refutation of the standpoint and objections of Mr. Burke in regard to Phil-lips's conviction. Mr. S. G. Brent followed on behalf of the defense, in which he took issue with Mr. Johnson in regard to certain similar cases which had been decided by the Court of Appeals and made a forc'ble argument in attempts to prove the disqualification

The Chillan government has sent a reply to the oltimsum of the United States. The reply is in effect as follows: Chili agrees to withdraw the offensive note sent by Senor Matta to all the Chillan Ministers abroad, and acknowledges that its issuance was due to an error of judgment. Chill also withdraws its request for the withdrawal of United States Minister Egan. In addition to this the Chillian government in its an swer propises that the affair of the attack on the Baltimore's sailors in Valparaiso be entmitted to the arbitration of some neutral nation. If this position is not acceptable to the United States government, the Obilian government suggests that the matter be submitted to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.
